Your investment $680 (+ GST) p.p.

"This program provided me with great tools, and examples of how to use them and the opportunity to practice them. I love that we got to work on our own facilitation plan over the day so I am leaving with a real plan ready to go. The group was a great size and were super engaged. I also really like that I am leaving today with a new network of fellow facilitators!"

-Henry (Toowoomba, Qld)

"Today was an invaluable, excellent experience. Very much focused on action learning, sharing knowledge and wonderful, respectful engagement from both facilitators and fellow participants. So much respect for Jo and Wendy!"

-Lynne (Gympie, Qld)

"I had a wonderful day. All 15 of us learnt so much and even if you are a facilitator already, it is so valuable, they have so many awesome tips and skills that they shared with us. When they are in your area try to get there - it will be worth your time!"

-Libby (Toowoomba, Qld)

JO EADY

Director, RuralScope Pty Ltd

Jo facilitates across Australia's agricultural and rural sectors. She has experience in working with small groups to national forums of over 1500 people. Jo holds qualifications in education, applied linguistics and psychology /counselling. She also holds accreditation as a facilitator in the Daring Way curricula based on the research of Dr Brene Brown. Her core values are authenticity, freedom and justice.

In her spare time you can find her cooking up a storm, renovating old houses, wrangling two labradors, reading a good book or gardening.

She loves working with people, just like you, who are keen to enhance their facilitation skills to achieve better outcomes for rural and regional Australia.

"I am passionate about facilitation because it gives a process for change and a voice to those who may not be easily heard"

WENDY AGAR

Director, Engaged Outcomes Pty Ltd

Wendy is passionate about empowering leaders and bringing people and communities together to facilitate progress. She facilitates primarily within the Community, Agriculture and For Purpose sectors and has experience working with groups of all sizes and both virtually, and in the real world! Her core values are authenticity, fairness and fun!

Until moving to Brisbane in 2020, Wendy had a wonderfully eclectic career including 10 years as a primary producer in Western Qld and 20 years working in leadership roles across several sectors in remote, rural and regional Qld. In addition to this experience, she has qualifications in education and HR and accreditations in change management and behaviour profiling, that shape how she practices.

Wendy is excited by the opportunity to work with you to strengthen your facilitation skills to bring change and growth for rural and regional Australia.

"I believe leadership is a practice, not a position, and our communities and organisations need more leaders who are skilled facilitators"

Frequently asked questions

What's included in the workshop price?	The workshop price includes the venue, professional tuition (1 day face to face and 2 x 1:1 support sessions), learning materials, templates and catering across the day – morning and afternoon tea and a light lunch. The price does not include car parking or travel to or from the workshop.
What do I need to bring to the workshop?	Bring an open mind and a willingness to participate fully and try some new things. Oh and something to write with.
How much experience do I need to participate?	No experience is necessary to attend the workshop. But for best outcomes, we recommend you have a group you work with or a session coming up that you will be facilitating so that you can plan and then apply your learnings in a real life context .
Can you provide inhouse training for my organisation?	Yes we can. We love developing bespoke training.
Is this training tax deductible?	Yes, we understand it is. Please speak to your accountant about this.
How often do you run these face to face workshops?	A minimum of three per year.
Do you run these workshops virtually?	We have plans to do this soon.
Who developed the workshop content?	Wendy Agar and Jo Eady developed the workshop program, content and materials. Both are learning design specialists and understand mindset development, environments conducive to learning as well as the process required to learn and apply learnings.

Frequently asked questions

Will I have to stand out the front of the room?	Ahhh, we understand this fear and want you to know that we facilitate with an invitation to participate. In saying this there are no activities planned that require you to stand out the front of the room.
Will I get to work in groups or with a partner to practise my skills?	There will be activities across the day where you can practise the knowledge and skills as part of a supported learning process. We think this is really important as it will give you the opportunity to have a go and develop your confidence so that you can leave the day ready to apply this in your own context.
What happens if I register and pay for my place and then can't attend on the day?	Once you register and pay for your place, your place in the program is confirmed. We understand unexpected emergencies and illness can come up. If you are not able to attend because of these reasons, we encourage you to arrange someone to take your place.
Is this training accredited training or can I use it for Recognition of Prior Learning?	This one day workshop is a professionally developed bespoke experiential program. It's not accredited training. Yes, it's likely you could use some of the outcomes for recognition of prior learning, especially the development of your facilitation plan you will work on.
Will I get a Certificate?	Yes, upon successful completion of the Foundation of Facilitation program you will be awarded a Certificate of Achievement.
